

BEAUTIFUL NEW STORE TO OPEN ON SATURDAY

Cablish & Weis Will Open On Saturday One of the Most Complete Combined Food Stores in the State of Kentucky.

Work of remodeling the old Power Store in Second street near Court has been completed and the building is now practically new in all of its parts. The installation of up-to-date new fixtures has been completed and on Saturday Cablish & Weis will open to the public one of the most complete and up-to-date food stores in all of Kentucky.

Maysville should be proud of such a splendid business equipment as this progressive firm will display to the public for the first time on Saturday morning. The building has been remodeled to fit every requirement of the combined store. The fixtures are the latest obtainable and everything needed to make such a store complete in every detail has been installed.

The store has been equipped with only the best in all kinds of food stuffs. The grocery department, located on the west side of the building, will be managed by Mr. Fred Cablish, an expert grocer of many years experience and recognized as one of the best men in this line in this section. The meat department, located on the east side of the building, will be under the direct management of Mr. William Weis, recognized as an expert in his line. In Maysville the name Weis has become synonymous with the best there is in meats of all kinds.

With this splendid store, managed by experts in their separate lines, this new store should immediately leap into prominence and we predict that it shall soon become one of the most popular stores in the city of Maysville.

Edgar A. Guest makes a Victor Record

Everybody who reads knows Edgar Guest's verses. What more natural than for him to speak some of his own pieces for a real Victor Record? "Ma and the Auto" recalls vividly these charged domestic situations which no electricity flow. On the reverse is "It Couldn't Be Done," and "Wait Till Your Pa Comes Home," a daddy's refusal to act as sonny's bugaboo.

EVANGELIST TO SPEAK ON THE DEVIL THIS EVENING

Revival at Southern Methodist Church Continue to Grow in Interest—"The Devil" To Be Discussed Tonight.

Since many people saw "The Devil" Thursday night at one of the local picture shows, Rev. Harmon, evangelist at the First M. E. Church, South, has announced that he will talk about the devil at his service at 7 o'clock Friday evening. He claims that the Book upon which he is basing his messages can shed more light upon that everpresent wet oft-neglected personality than can any picture or other agency in the world today.

If you have any doubt about the devil and his existence, if you consider him fact or fiction, if you are well acquainted with or ignorant of his workings, if he is actively influencing your life, you can not afford to miss what Rev. Harmon has to say about the definite teachings of the Bible on the subject of the devil.

Thursday evening Rev. Harmon spoke on "The Practical Side of Religion, based on sound doctrine," taking his general lesson from the second chapter of Titus, and laying particular emphasis upon the fourteenth verse, "Our Saviour Jesus Christ who gave himself for us, that He might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works." In closing, Rev. Harmon spoke of the power of unconscious influence, because no individual can fail to exert it under all circumstances.

Rev. Harmon impresses his hearers with his sane presentation of the fundamental facts of salvation, based directly upon the strict Biblical teachings. His morning services deal largely with "Prayer," and are proving very helpful to those who are attending them regularly.

A meeting of the county officers of the Disciples of Christ was held Wednesday afternoon, January 11th, at the Christian church in Maysville, Ky. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. Manley.

Rev. Nichols of Washington then led in prayer. After a few remarks by the president the meeting was turned over to Rev. W. J. Clark, State Field Secretary. Rev. Clark first gave an outline of what was decided at the county convention last July. He then said that the purpose of this meeting was to plan a program for the year of 1922.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Tuckerman, of Kansas City, have arrived and will have charge of the music in the revival meetings that are to be begun at the Christian church Sunday morning. Prof. Tuckerman is a great chorus leader having had a wide experience with several of the great national evangelists of this country. He has sung in meetings in most of the states. He has a fine personality and a robust baritone voice that never fails to please. He is ably assisted by his talented wife. New books have been purchased and the singing will be a big feature in these meetings. Every one who sings is cordially invited to join the big chorus. There will be practice Saturday night at 7:30. Prof. and Mrs. Tuckerman assisted the pastor in a great meeting at East Liverpool, Ohio, and gave such splendid satisfaction that they were eagerly sought for this meeting. The pastor will do the preaching. Since the people of Maysville hear him through a series of meetings last year no other word is necessary. Services at 7:15 every night except Saturday. Everybody cordially invited to all services.

THREE ROBBERIES CHARGED TO KELLUM BY LOCAL OFFICIALS

Articles Stolen in Three Local Homes Are Found By Police in Hands of Those to Whom Kellum Had Given or Sold Them.

William Kellum, arrested the first of the week in Cincinnati for the local police is charged with entering and robbing the homes of Mr. Charles Triebel, Prof. W. T. Berry and Mr. Cleveland Smart.

It will be remembered that these homes were robbed within a few days of each other. The Smart homes is in the Hilldale neighborhood, the Triebel home in West Second street and the Berry home in Wood street Sixth ward. Police say they will be enabled to prove that Kellum had a part in the robbery of all three of these homes or knows something about them. They claim they will be enabled to prove that Kellum was in the Triebel home and articles he carried from that home have been located. They have also located articles stolen from the Smart and Berry homes which came from Kellum.

Kellum was brought before Police Judge Harry C. Curran Friday afternoon but as he was not ready for trial, his examination was postponed. Kellum is about 24 years of age, lived for some time in the West End of Maysville but for some time has made his home in Cincinnati with a married sister.

FORMER SENATOR HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING

Senator Bagby Found Floundering in Kinney Creek — Had Mistaken Shadow for the Bridge.

Garrison, Jan. 13. — Last Thursday night some members of the crew of a west-bound freight, which had stopped to take on water at the C. & O. water tank here, heard a man calling for help. Two of the crew investigated and discovered the man had fallen from the C. & O. bridge into Kinney creek and was holding to the state ledge on the upper side of the bridge to keep from drowning.

This ledge is straight up and down for a distance of 20 feet and the men were unable to rescue him. They came and awakened Thos. Howard about 3 o'clock a. m., asking for assistance to reach the man. Mr. Howard hurried with them to a boat. They succeeded in getting the man in the boat and Mr. Howard asked him his name only to find that he was his own neighbor, T. P. Bagby.

Mr. Bagby was carried to the pump house to get him warm as he was badly chilled. Mr. Bagby was partly undressed when found, but after being warmed and dressed in dry clothing he seemed to be all right and was able to start home at 6 o'clock a. m.

It had required an hour to extricate him from his unfortunate position and had he remained there much longer he would likely have lost his hold and slipped back into deep water and drowned. As it was, he was nearly frozen. When he recovered sufficiently to talk, he stated that he was crossing the bridge and thought he was across and would step off to the path by the side of the railroad track, but when he stepped, too late, he discovered his mistake. He had stepped into space and plunged down 60 feet into the creek, barely escaping striking the jagged edge of the slate as he fell.

He had on a pair of rubber boots at the time and had managed to get them off while in the water, as well as other pieces of clothing, thinking he might be able to swim out.

Aside from nearly freezing while remaining in the chilled waters for nearly two hours, Mr. Bagby seems to complain only of being sore and having a cough.

Some men have such mean dispositions that they find fault with the presents received at a surprise party.

DEMOCRATS EMPLOY DAME RUMOR.

Just what purpose is served in circulating rumors that this or that public official is going to resign, it is difficult to understand unless the Democratic party is attempting to create an impression throughout the country that President Harding does not get along well with his cabinet. That may be branded as a falsehood at the outset. Harding's cabinet is composed of large caliber men and for the first time in our history the Vice President has been sitting in cabinet meetings and giving aid and counsel. All are working in harmony to produce results and bring order out of Democratic chaos, and they are gradually succeeding. They are men, it is true, whose minds are too big to run along with that of the President on every occasion—they do not sneeze whenever he takes snuff—but that does not mean that there is discord in the official family of Mr. Harding.

As early as April of last year the rumor was being industriously circulated by enemies of the Administration that Herbert Hoover was about to resign because of some grievance which he held against the President. Hoover denied it, but the rumor persisted for some weeks. Hoover is still very much on the job, and if the Democrats would pay as much attention to their organization as Hoover does to his department, they might put up a scrap which would make the game interesting this fall.

Dame Rumor has been gallivanting all over the East and South with the report that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was "about to resign" or was "considering his resignation." Mellon has repeatedly denied this, but the old harrier keeps on peddling the gossip. Recently Mr. Mellon declared he was going to see the job through, so perhaps they will let up on him for a while.

A third rumor concerns Will Hays, Postmaster General, who is reported to have been offered an attractive salary to act as arbiter in the film industry. No one could blame Hays if he should accept the offer. He has wrought well as chairman of the National Committee and he has put life into the Post Office Department. But if he resigns it will not be because of trouble in the Cabinet, but because of his desire to rehabilitate his financial standing. Public office is not remunerative.

The latest rumor to be circulated by the gossip-mongers of the Democratic party is to the effect that Secretary of State Hughes was going to resign, because "the Secretary and the Executive were at odds over the developments of the arms conference." Hughes was so busy at the time the rumor was circulated that he didn't have time to affirm or deny, so President Harding spoke for him and the public was assured that "there is no ground for any statement of injured pride, hurt vanity or jealousy." Of course not. The present Cabinet members do not go around like a lot of neurotics suffering from artistic temperament. False pride, vanity, and jealousy are foreign to men wholeheartedly working for the public weal and wedded to national service.

When Penrose died, the Democratic publicity agents, having nothing to say about the constructive work of their own party, spread the rumor that the selection of a successor to the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee would split the Republican party wide open and the G. O. P. was lost. But McCumber, the next ranking member of the committee, was very quietly and effectively placed in the chair and there wasn't a ripple of excitement about it.

Pay no attention to these old wives' tales. Rumor-making is an ancient political dodge—obsolete, and the Democrats deal in obsolete things. There is a quotation from Shakespeare which begins, "Rumor is a pipe"—and let it end there.

TRUCK ROAD FEES

A special commission appointed by the Governor of Oregon to consider a revision of the highway laws has reported in favor of a number of changes, among them a proposed license fee to be charged operators of commercial vehicles so that they shall contribute toward the support of the improvement and maintenance of the roads somewhat in proportion to their use and destruction of the highways. There is also proposed a special regulation for loaded trucks limiting the load and speed so that a minimum of damage to the road shall be caused by such use.

Boston Transcript—It is proposed to give Germany additional aid in which to pay it with promises.

On the import side it will be found that there are many increases. Goods are coming in from Germany now in large quantities, and at prices which are ruinous to American industries. This side of the ledger must be regulated by a protective tariff. But so far as our outgoing trade is concerned there is little to growl about.

WATSON UP IN THE AIR

The charge of wholesale hanging of American soldiers in France have fallen flat. There is no evidence whatever to support them. But perhaps it is just as well that the charges were definitely made and thoroughly investigated. It is better that the whole matter be fully investigated now while witnesses are still alive than that whispered accusations be continued from year to year until witnesses are dead and there can be no disproof.

DON'T SELL SHORT

As an eminent financier used to say, the man who sells America "short" is certain to go broke. The year 1922 will show a number of illustrations of the truth of that assertion, for those who sell short on the theory that times are to be worse will have some expensive experience.

KENTUCKY'S THOROUGHBRED CONTRIBUTION TO THE NATION

Under the Pari-Mutual System the Kentucky Jockey Club Has Lifted Racing to the Highest Plane—An Example to the Whole Country—$3,479,675.00 Distributed in Three Years

(From the New York Rider and Driver)

Whenever the thoroughbred is mentioned, Kentucky, the home of Man of War, and for a hundred years the center of the breeding industry in this country, always comes to mind. It is not possible to conceive of racing in America without the yearly contribution of thoroughbreds from the Bluegrass State. There are great breeding farms in New York, Virginia, California and elsewhere, but the very life blood of the thoroughbred cause pours from Kentucky's ever-flowing fountain. In this favored State, with its fertile fields deep in bluegrass throughout the winter, the horse reaches perfection.

The Rider and Driver does not know of any greater calamity that could happen to the horse industry than for Kentucky to turn against the thoroughbred, and destroy the great breeding industry, which has not only made the State world-famous, but has aided every farmer in America by improving the breed of horses. The War Department has repeatedly gone on record in favor of the thoroughbred, without which the Army would not have suitable remounts. The Remount Service, in charge of United States Army officers, has established breeding farms with thoroughbred stallions at their head, horses that have had their speed, courage and endurance tried in contests on the turf. These great nurseries will provide the type of cavalry horse that the Army needs, and every farmer in this country cannot only aid the cause by sending his mares to thoroughbred studs, but can be assured of reaping a substantial profit, as the War Department is constantly in the market for horses of this character.

Racing in Kentucky under the direction of the Kentucky Jockey Club is not only a credit to the State, but with the pari-mutual system perfected, it has set an example to the world in point of high class contests, clean racing generous stakes and purses. Under the old order, the meetings were dragged out to an interminable length, in one year one hundred and fifty-five days, and in another year one hundred and seventy-four.

Under the State Racing Commission, created by an Act of the Legislature, the number of days on which racing is permitted has been cut to one hundred and eight. There is strict supervision of all turf matters, with the result that beginning with the Kentucky Derby, with $50,000 added, which has been run at Churchill Downs for forty-seven years, the quality of racing in Kentucky sets the standard for the whole country.

Formerly turfmen raced for $400 purses, and the amount distributed yearly ran from $300,000 to $600,000. Since the organization of the Kentucky Jockey Club, three years ago, the amount distributed daily in stakes and purses averaged over $11,600, and the yearly total was as follows:

1920	1,200,900.00
1921	1,281,085.00
Total	$3,479,675.00

The Kentucky Jockey Club pays over $270,000 each year into the State Treasury in license fees and pays $40,000 additional in State, City and County taxes.

With millions of dollars invested in farm lands devoted exclusively to the breeding of thoroughbreds, and other millions invested in horses that have no superior in the world, The Rider and Driver believes that the Kentucky Legislature, made up of level headed farmers and business men, will refuse to destroy this valuable industry which it has heretofore sanctioned and encouraged.

New York. — The revolution—some kind of a revolution—has been accomplished! When the S. S. Potomac sailed for Queenstown from here the other day, it carried with it as master-of-arms, a woman! You will appreciate the full significance of this if you understand that the master-of-arms of a ship keeps order among the sailors, and sailors are NOT always the most subdued of men. Mrs. Mary Koin is the first woman in the world to undertake such a job. General Manager Rossbottom of the steamship line announces that the innovation is by way of being a psychological experiment. A sailor, he said, will occasionally hit any man who tries to calm him. But he can't very well hit a woman, can he? Well then. What the sailors think of all this has not been printed. It probably never will be. At least not by me.

Onlookers at the Van Courtland Park skating were chill-stricken the other day when the skaters were first out in full force. There were a dozen girls or so in kilts! Kilts are quite all right and good-looking as a skating costume, of course, and the bright plaids were decidedly attractive. But they were worn consistently. That was the shock. Below the short plaided skirts to all appearances there dangled a good seven inches of unprotected bare legs, before they dipped into rolled-over heather-colored woolen stockings. And it was a cold day. But it was only one more trick. Pinkish tan stockings underneath the heather ones covered every inch of what had seemed to be touched only by the freezing winds.

Nothing could seem more peaceful as an environment than canary birds and guinea pigs. When "Humpty" Jackson, famed gangster of fifteen years ago, settled down as the keeper of a whole store of these gentle creatures, it would seem that the turmoil of his life should have been pretty well over. But right there among those pets, two gunmen with a hold-over grievance against him, sought out, and began shooting at him while the was standing in the door of his store with an ailing canary perched on his finger. Mrs. Jackson ran out of the store at the sounds of the shots, picked up a pistol dropped by one of them and fired it. She seriously wounded one of the assailants, but "Humpty," untouched, went back to the job of finding out what ailed the little yellow canary.

We have grown to demand a great deal of any comedy with the name of A. A. Milne signed as author. Maybe it was "Mr. Pym" that set the particularly high and peculiar Milne standard for us. I don't remember whether it has existed for me before that or not. Anyway, whenever I have that feeling about an author I have a funny scared feeling about seeing a new production of his. I am so anxious for it not to fail my expectations. That was the mood in which I fancy a lot of us went to see "Dover Road" at the Plymouth. And oh, the joy of not having the slightest disappointment! Not even the entirely delightful "Mr. Pym" was better than "Dover Road." I am not even sure it was quite as good. Mr. Milne is almost the only playwright I can think of who is subtle and naively joyous at the same time. And Charles Cherry plays the leading role fully as well as it deserves, which is saying much.

Whether it is because Sheila has only lately come from the Emerald Isle or whether there is truly more romance left in people's minds than we sometimes realize, certain it is that in a fashionable Fifth Avenue restaurant the other day, according to a designer thereof, there was a solid half hour and some precious money spent by a little sewing girl in the name of that romance. Sheila was stitching busily on a detail of a wedding frock when she pricked her finger and a tiny drop of blood sank into the snowy fabric. "Sew it under, quick," whispered her neighbor; "it's under the edge of the band there, anyhow." But Sheila paid her debt to romance. "Tis bad luck to have blood on one's wedding gown," she said. "I wouldn't bring it on the wearer for worlds." "Ah, go on," cried one of her fellow workers. "She's worth for five millions. What should you worry about her bad luck?" Sheila was adamant. Millions aren't everything she insisted. So her lunch money and her lunch hour both went to putting a new piece of satin into the frock, set with invisible fairy stitches, so that a girl who would never see might not start her married life with a bad luck omen.

JAPANESE PRINCE TELLS STORY OF MILITARISTIC JAPAN

Prince Tokugawa Tells What Christianity Has Done for the Country of Japan.

(In this remarkable article Prince Iyesato Tokugawa tells why Japan became militaristic, of the growth and influence of Christianity in Japan, and how America saved Japan from the opium evil and of the friendship of the two nations in the past. This is one of the two nations in the past. This is one of a series of signed articles by men attending the Conference on Limitation of Armament secured by the Federal Council of Churches as part of its campaign of education in behalf of an ultimate "warless world." It assumes no responsibility for the views expressed.)

By PRINCE IYESATO TOKUGAWA, of the Japanese Delegation.

Washington, Jan. 12. — As a delegate to the great conference now being held at Washington I bring to all the people of the United States, a message of good will and fraternity from my compatriots at home.

The task of the conference is religious. I think I can say this without irreverence, because this conference is organized upon an exalted plane, and is animated with high ideals. The injection of American idealism into international affairs is the most refreshing thing in the modern world. In this enlightened age diplomacy should purge itself from Machiavellism, and international politics should be lifted above selfishness and greed.

Japan has come to the conference intending to offer upon the altar of international peace the soothing influence of love and charity without jeopardizing her safety or existence.

Because of this spirit in all delegations, I feel justified in saying that

A MERCILESS JUDGE

One Who Shows No Favor.

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Maysville resident has withstood the sternest of all tests. Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 East Second street, Maysville, says: "I have been greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and I have reason to recommend them. At times my back has become lame and ached just over my kidneys. My kidneys were irregular in action and I was dizzy. When ever I have used Doan's Kidney Pills I always get relief from these complaints. I certainly think them a good reliable remedy. I always get Doan's at Wood & Son's Drug Store."

The above statement was given November 16, 1916, and on November 22, 1920. Mrs. Holliday said: "I am glad to say my kidneys have given me no trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills four years ago. My general health has been good. I gladly renew the statement I gave recommending Doan's at that time."

Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Holliday had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

the work of the conference is a work of religion, and of the church. Because I think this to be true I am doubly happy to be with you here—you who are interested in the work of God.

Ninety-three years ago there was held in Brookline, Massachusetts, a prayer meeting, invoking the assistance of the Great Being to let Japan, then a hermit nation enjoying arcadian peace, see the wisdom of opening her door to America and general foreign intercourse. A sum of $600 was collected at this and other similar meetings, and the money was sent to the American Mission Board for the purpose of launching a Christian movement in Japan.

That was ninety-three years ago. Today Japan has 200,000 members of the Protestant church, as well as Christian adherents numbering more than a million.

The American Bible Society at Tokyo can never print enough Bibles to meet the ever increasing demand.

There is no doubt that Christianity has already spread its roots wide and deep in Japanese soil.

The Japanese newspapers, magazines, and fiction of today bear testimony to this statement. The prevailing popular conception of mankind and humanity, and of liberty, equality and fraternity, may be directly or indirectly traced to Christianity. Because of these things I have been interested in watching the activities of the churches of America through the Federal Council of Churches in the half of peace. They have exercised great influence not only in America but throughout the world. The campaign of education has been specially effective.

I hope I will not tax your patience if I take the liberty of presenting a brief survey of Japan's foreign intercourse since we opened our doors.

In giving such a survey, we must inevitably hark back to the American-Japanese treaty in 1854, the first foreign treaty Japan has ever concluded.

The first articles of that historic treaty says: "There shall be a perfect, permanent and universal peace and a sincere and cordial amity between the United States of America on the one part, and the Empire of Japan on the other part and between their peoples respectively, without exception of persons or places."

Words fail me when I try to tell you how highly we prize the spirit embodied in this article. I want all of you Americans to cherish that article, and be proud of it as we are.

When we look back over recent developments of American-Japanese relations, are we — the Americans as well as the Japanese—sure that we have no reason to be ashamed of ourselves in the face of that noble article of the first treaty between our two countries?

The first treaty between Japan and America was signed by your distinguished sailor, Commodore Matthew Calbraith Perry. If we are not to tarnish the escutcheons of our forefathers who concluded that monumental instrument, it is our foremost duty to make the greatest efforts to remove all causes of misunderstanding and disagreement which are likely to cast a shadow over the bright relationship between our two nations.

When Japan had just opened her doors to foreign intercourse sixty years ago the representatives of European governments were inclined to deal with the Japanese with undue severity. In that period, the representative of the United States, Townsend Harris, emphatically disagreed with his European colleagues and stood for tolerance and moderation.

I need not recount here the numerous instances in which America showed herself generous and sympathetic towards Japan, but I feel constrained to mention just one notable example. When Townsend Harris was about to conclude a treaty with Japan he advised our Government to include in the proposed treaty a clause prohibiting the importation of opium, that pernicious drug which was foisted upon China by cunning traders and which has been sending thousands upon thousands of Chinese unto their doom.

You have undoubtedly heard a great deal about militarism in Japan. But if you really understand the history of

HISTORICAL CALENDAR

January 13.—Samuel Woodworth born. 1785-1842. Author of "The Old Oaken Bucket."

POINCARÉ TO FORM FRENCH CABINET.

Paris, Jan. 13.—Raymond Poincaré, former president of France, formally accepted today President Alexandre Millerand's invitation to form a new cabinet to succeed that of Aristide Briand.

It took him less than 24 hours of private inquiry among potential ministers to obtain the necessary members of a cabinet which he will head as premier and probably as minister of foreign affairs.

Briand, who has been premier many times, is through with French politics for the time being, he said emphatically.

"I am going back to making money," the genial ex-premier said with a laugh to newspaper men who asked his plans.

This corner was long the site of a barber shop and such a business at this place has always flourished.

WORLD'S BEST PENMAN SUICIDES AT FALMOUTH.

M. B. Moore, 55, who won the first prize on his penmanship at the 1893 World's Fair, took his own life Thursday at his home near Falmouth, Ky. Worry over physical and financial conditions is said to have caused him to take his own life.

Nettles have been made into substitutes for cotton and other materials, paper, gas mantles, and dyes.

THE MODERN MOTHER

Faces problems far beyond those of her forbears. She herself must be a much more competent person, combining in one individual the duties of nurse, cook, teacher and moral instructor. It is no wonder that many conscientious women break under the strain, and that others drag out a miserable existence; always tired, and yet unable to take a day's vacation. Such women will find themselves benefited and their burdens made easier by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which was made for suffering women, and does not fail to relieve them.

CONTEST OF SEAT OF SENATOR NEWBERRY DISMISSED

Henry Ford's Contest of Michigan Senator's Seat in United States Senate Dismissed by Vote of 46 to 41.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Truman H. Newberry, of Michigan, Thursday night finally won his long fight for a seat in the United States Senate.

The right to the seat was determined by the Senate itself, which, by a vote of 46 to 41 on a resolution sponsored by Republican leaders, asserted that Mr. Newberry was entitled to his seat.

All who voted for him were Republicans, while nine Republicans and thirty-two Democrats voted against him. Three senators were paired for and three against the resolution, and three senators did not vote.

Added to the resolution declaring Mr. Newberry entitled to his seat and denying the claim of Henry Ford, the defeated Democratic contestant in the 1918 election, that because of campaign expenditures Mr. Newberry was not entitled to sit in the Senate, was a statement of public policy by which the Senate "severely condemned and disapproved" the use of excessive sums in behalf of any candidate.

Senator Ernst, of Kentucky, voted to dismiss the contest and Senator Stanley was paired.

Mr. Newberry himself, who was on the floor only once during the long battle and then to speak in his own defense last Monday, telephoned his supporters at the Capitol tonight after the result was determined that he regarded the result as a complete vindication and an exoneration of myself and all concerned.

"My heart is filled with thankfulness," he said, "that the three years and four months of persecution has ended in a complete vindication and an exoneration of myself and all concerned."

NO SALE AT THE LIBERTY ON SATURDAY

Common Lot of Tobacco Is Sold on Liberty Floor Friday But Prices Are Quite Satisfactory.

Although the tobacco offered for sale Friday at the Liberty warehouse was a very common lot, the prices were quite satisfactory and all the growers selling appeared to be pleased with the prices they received. Approximately 125,000 pounds were sold at from two dollars to sixty-seven dollars per hundred pounds. Some splendid crop averages were made but much of the tobacco was of an inferior grade bringing the general average for the day down.

Special crops: John and Wood Waltingford, 2110 pounds, $46.10; Cracraft & Brierley, 1145, $33.10; Osborne & Cooper, 1586, $26.15; Shinkle & Mannes, 325, $31.15; Reubenacker & Berry, 4155, $34.60; Holton & McIlfresh, 1245, $31.95; Heiffer Bros, 3910, $21.10. There will be no sale at the Liberty on Saturday of this week.

LEAPS FROM OHIO RIVER BRIDGE

The Cincinnati Times-Star says. Lieut. Doyle of the Second police district, was notified Friday that a man had leaped from the L. & N. bridge into the Ohio River, on Wednesday at 4 p. m. Frank Banke, 301 Foote avenue, and Herman Rutz, 419

Ward avenue Bellevue, Ky., told Doyle that they were walking over the bridge on their way home when they saw a man stop, take a drink from a bottle and climb upon the rail. They shouted to him to get down and ran toward him, they said, but before they reached him he had leaped. His body turned over several times in the fall, they said. It was swallowed up in the river, disappearing from view instantly.

MORE TROOPS ARE ORDERED TO NEWPORT.

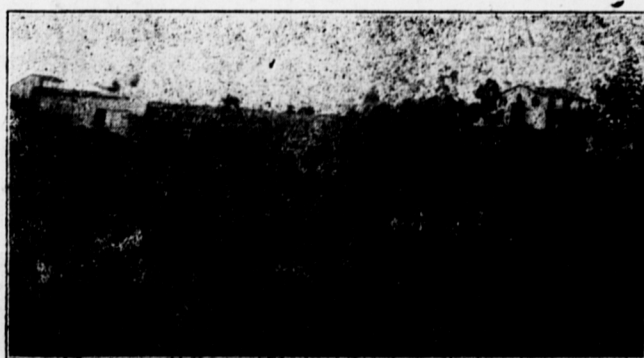

Governor Morrow, in response to a request from Major James K. Dillon, commanding the troops guarding the Newport Rolling Mill, ordered two more companies to that city Friday. When they report, the force of Kentucky guardsmen at the plant, where a strike is in progress, will number 400 officers and men.

Major Dillon said Friday that he had asked for more troops because of the "increasing violence of the demonstrations that have been made against the employees of the mill within the last two days."
